

What Does Your Perfect Tree Look Like?

COLOURING CONTEST

WIN a copy of: “The Little Tree by the Sea: From Halifax to Boston With Love”

Written by John DeMont, Illustrated by Belle DeMont / Nimbus Publishing, 2017

BOOK DESCRIPTION:

On December 6, 1917, two ships collided in wartime Halifax Harbour, creating what became the largest man-made explosion of its time. More than 2000 people died (500 of those children) and 9,000 were injured. A single little tree whispered from its branches the word “Help” that was carried by the wind to the people of Boston. Within 48 hours Boston and Massachusetts organized trains to carry 33 doctors and 79 nurses. To repay the City of Boston for its generosity, the little tree (which now had become huge and majestic tree) was given to the city of Boston as a way to say thank you, a tradition that continues to this day.

CONTEST RULES:

- Open to children in Grades Primary to Three, or Ages 4-9
- One (1) entry per child, submissions may be posted online & social media (personal info will be kept private)
- Winners will be randomly selected, one from each Library Region in Nova Scotia:
<http://publiclibraries.ns.ca>
- Contest closes December 15, 2017. Contact the Nova Scotia Provincial Library (nspl@novascotia.ca) or your local Public Library for more information.

TO ENTER:

- Decorate and colour the attached page, and drop it off at your local Public Library
OR
- Scan or take a photo of your picture and post it on Twitter or Facebook using the hashtag: #NSPublicLibs (please do not include personal info listed in entry form)
OR
- Email a scan or photo of your entry to: nspl@novascotia.ca

What Does Your Perfect Tree Look Like?

Name: _____
Age: _____ Grade: _____
Library Region: _____
Parent email: _____
Phone number: _____

Drop it off at your local Public Library, or scan or take a photo of your entry, and

- Post picture on Twitter or Facebook using the hashtag: #NSPublicLibs (please do not include personal info listed in entry form)
- OR
- Email it to: nspl@novascotia.ca